As we approach the spring semester, I am reminded of the season of renewal we are entering. The renewal of nature also brings about the renewal of learning. The renewal of learning opportunities which celebrate the arts, the humanities, the social sciences, and the media. PCAL is a college that thrives to present life-altering learning opportunities that are centered on goals that lead us to renewed understanding of life. As you begin this semester, take moments to engage in enrichment opportunities presented by our college. Some of these include are Cultural Enhancement Series' Film Festival. These experiences, these life-altering learning experiences, happen not only in the classroom, but outside the classroom. Thank you for being back with us and remember: I am PCAL, You are PCAL, We are PCAL.
