

Aaron L. Lloyd, Jr.

The son of Aaron Lloyd Sr. and Elly F. Lloyd

Hometown: Louisville, Kentucky

Degree: Bachelor of Fine Arts in Graphic Design

Organizations: Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc.

Future Aspirations: To attend graduate school and become a successful designer for a major company.

First I want to thank all my teachers at Western MST Magnet High School, who pushed me and encouraged me to attend college. It seems like yesterday I was running the halls w/ my long time friends Dre, Shelton, Lanet, Tyson, Greg and "WF", but as I look back on my college career I realize that the people and the experiences (good & bad) I endured over time will positively effect a great amount of me future. I often questioned if college was actually the best years my life, and I came to the conclusion that I wouldn't trade the memories or my friends for the world. Times such as: freshmen yr. spending numerous hours cutting up on "THE ROCK" with my homeboy Jamel; those late nights finishing up English papers- Thanks Ms. Winn, could've done it w/out you; or when I was at my all time worse do to a life changing event. I saw my life and college career vanish and if it wasn't for the encouragement and support of one of my closest friends Demarcus, I may not have been here.

To my mother, father, and sister I dedicate this diploma to you, because I know I can always turn to you and you will be there when know one else is and to my extended family, thanks for always supporting me in whatever decisions I chose to make. To Darian and Keith thanks for being the brothers I never had. Matt, John, Deshawn, Dave, Pewee, Derrick, Twaun and the whole NFL family, I couldn't have enjoyed these years with a better crew.

Huge shout out to the Pretty Boys Incorporated of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity. This college experience wouldn't have been the half of what it was if I didn't join the greatest black Greek lettered organization of all time. Keep searching, and keep Achieving YO YO!!!

Last but certainly not least I want to thank my God. None of this would be possible if it wasn't for you.