

Interfaith Dialogue on Earth
Care Feb. 19 & 20, 2010

Keynote
Speaker

Dr. Matthew Sleeth

A former emergency room physician, Matthew Sleeth, MD, felt like he was straightening deck chairs on the Titanic saving one patient at a time while the whole ship (Earth) was going down. Together with his wife and two teenaged children, he began to bring his lifestyle in line with his values, cutting back on their fossil fuel by two thirds and electricity use by nine tenths.

Following a new calling, Dr. Sleeth resigned from his position as chief of the medical staff and director of the ER to teach, preach, and write about faith and the environment throughout the country.

Dr. Sleeth is a graduate of The George Washington University School of Medicine and has two post doctoral fellowships. He is the teacher in the creation care film series, The Green Commission, and the author of Serve God, Save the Planet: A Christian Call to Action (Zondervan, April 2007), the introduction to the Green Bible (2008, HarperOne), and The Gospel According to the Earth: Why the Good Book is a Green Book (HarperOne, April 2010). Dr. Sleeth also currently serves as the executive director of Blessed Earth and makes his home in Wilmore, Ky., with his wife, Nancy.

www.matthewsleethmd.com

“Serve God,
Save the Planet”

Mass Media & Technology Hall Auditorium, WKU
Friday, February 19, 2010 7:00 p.m.

Free and open to the public

Parking available in WKU Parking Structures

Sponsors: area churches & centers, WKU departments & colleges,
Provost Initiative for Excellence grant

---

Conference Saturday February 20, 2010, 8:00 a.m.–4:00 p.m.

“Christianity, Eastern Religions, Islam, Judaism, and Earth Care”

www.wku.edu/bggreen/

For more information contact: Margie.bowker@wku.edu or bella.mukonyora@wku.edu