In this free session, participants will receive an overview of the KIDS Now Scholarship Program and STARS for KIDS Now, Kentucky's voluntary Quality Rating System for licensed and certified early care and education settings. Focus will be on credentials and supports available for early childhood professionals and the state's requirements for entering the STARS for KIDS NOW program. This is a mandatory training for any licensed or family child care home provider interested in participation in the STARS for KIDS NOW Quality Rating System. Directors/Owners of Type I, Type II and Certified Family Child Care Homes are invited to attend. If a center has an off-site director, both the director and the on-site supervisor must attend. Early care and education settings that choose to participate in STARS for KIDS NOW may receive free technical assistance through the Quality Enhancement Initiative. The session will be presented by Denney Breeding, STARS Quality Coordinator.

*Please note that training hours will not be awarded for the training, but a certificate of participation will be given.

Pre-registration is necessary by phone or e-mail:
