

Friends of the Civil War Center

You are cordially invited to become a member of the Friends of the Center for the Study of the Civil War in the West. The Center's many programs are made possible by the generous support of donors who establish endowments or who give on a regular basis. Donations help fund the Center's fellowships, public lectures, scholarly seminars, publications, tours, and teacher workshops. By joining the Friends, you will play a significant role in helping the Center to make possible programs that enhance the understanding of scholars, students, and the general public in the history of the Civil War in the West.
