Modern Transmission Development, located in Leitchfield, Kentucky, is a subsidiary of MTD Products, Inc., manufacturers of Cub Cadet, Troy-Bilt and other well-known brands of lawn and garden equipment. MTD is an engineered products company, specializing in mechanical engineering design and specialized equipment for high volume production of our products. Modern Transmission Development utilizes automation and high volume production techniques to produce gearboxes and drive systems as well as aluminum die castings and plastic injection molded components for lawn and garden products.