

GFAC Minutes

December 11, 2008

Members present included Bob Hatfield, Bill Davis, Zubair Mohamed, John Wassom, Rick Shannon, Bob Reber, William Tallon, Jeff Butterfield, Chris Brown and Steve Wells.

Butterfield announced systems management program will be offered for the army at the Radcliff center.

Hatfield announced an MBA Director/Advisor has been hired and will start Jan. 5.

Davis said they are moving forward with the BB&T professorship. Unofficially, Michelle Trawick has been named as replacement for chair.

Mohamed said Wil Clouse did a great job with the Chinese Scholars that visited. Dr. Tallon announced that Wil was awarded the PGA grant.

Shannon is still working on a PQ position for Sales and certification for the Sales Center.

Hatfield said the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) is offering certification and Leanne Coder is working on this.

Reber said grades are due Tuesday. Graduation is on Saturday.

Wells said accounting has filed the December accreditation report for AACSB.

Tallon thanked everyone for their help with the new building. Please let him know of any suggestions or requests from your departments. We should know tomorrow the site selection.

Tallon announced Jennifer Taylor will be the new development director.

The minutes were approved from the last meeting.

For AACSB they like our responses. Lynne Richardson does not foresee any problem getting it passed. There will be a conference call with her and other accreditation team members in January.

The budget announcement from Beshear will be today. Dr. Tallon shared with everyone his thoughts on meeting the 4% cut.

Tallon announced the Student Advisory Council would like to hold a Business Careers Day in the Spring. They will invite employers and have a mini-conference. The sessions would coincide with class times and classes would be canceled for the day. Sessions could include interview tips, resume building, internship information, etc. The group agreed it's a great idea. It will be held on April 21, 2009. Dr. Reber suggested moving the Student Appreciation Day to this event.

The Dean also announced there will be an event in the Fall of 2009 for the sophomores.

The college wide meeting will be held January 20 in the Regency Room at 2 p.m. The Dean asked for suggestions about topics. Shannon said AACSB and building. Butterfield said budget information. Reber suggested FBLA and Ken-Tenn.

Reber told Butterfield they need 130 computers for online testing at FBLA. Davis commented that we need a room to host them where they can take breaks.

The meeting was adjourned at 10 a.m.
