

POTTER COLLEGE is delighted to announce its arts calendar for the 2011-2012 season.

Throughout the year, our talented students and faculty members will be presenting outstanding programs in the visual and performing arts, and we invite you to join us. It's a great chance to experience the arts in comfortable, convenient, and affordable settings.

Share in the beauty and the excitement of the Arts at WKU!

Sincerely,

David D. Lee

Dean, Potter College of Arts & Letters

ART Exhibitions

2D CORRIDOR GALLERY

May 9 – September 6, 2011

Big Prints

This exhibition showcases large format digital prints created by WKU students in Laurin Notheison's digital printmaking class.

September 13 – October 7, 2011

Mark Sheppard: Illustrations

Mark Sheppard's clever illustrations take a sly look at contemporary culture through the lenses of such art-historical greats as Hieronymus Bosch and Albrecht Dürer.

October 14 – November 8, 2011

Bobby Campbell: Wayfinding

Using pieces created in the studio and easily found readymades, Bobby Campbell's installation will seek to visually reorder the glass cases of the Corridor Gallery, encouraging visual play and developing a new process of "wayfinding."

November 16 – December 17, 2011

Fall Graduating Seniors Exhibition

(ALSO IN MAIN GALLERY)

Reception: Saturday, Dec 17 in conjunction with Commencement

From Graphic Design to Drawing, Painting, Printmaking, Weaving, Ceramics and Sculpture, this group exhibition presents the work of the Fall 2011 graduating Seniors from the Department of Art.

January 23 – February 22, 2012

Visual Anthropology, Life in Dhrangadhra

This group exhibition, created and installed by WKU anthropology students, features thematic explorations of life in Dhrangadhra, India. Experience is brought to life through photographs taken and artifacts collected from a study-abroad trip led by Lindsey Powell (WKU faculty, anthropology) during the summer of 2011.

February 28 – April 10, 2012

Jennifer Anderson, Engram

Jennifer Anderson's work explores the ephemeral, taking into account the vulnerable delicate nature of life while gently asserting the persistence of memory. A tension between meaning, materials and time exists in this body of work.

April 18 – May 12, 2012

Spring Graduating Seniors Exhibition

(ALSO IN MAIN GALLERY)

Reception: Saturday, May 12 in conjunction with Commencement

From Graphic Design to Drawing, Painting, Printmaking, Weaving, Ceramics and Sculpture, this group exhibition presents the work of the Spring 2012 graduating Seniors from the Department of Art.

MAIN GALLERY

August 29 – September 24, 2011

Harold Winslow, Una Visión de la Mexicanidad

(SPONSORED BY KIIS)

Reception: Saturday, Sept 24 in conjunction with the Bowling Green International Festival

Harold Winslow was an African-American painter born in Dayton, Ohio, in 1918. In 1940, frustrated by his limited opportunities to develop as an artist in the United States, he traveled to Mexico and enrolled in the prestigious Academy of San Carlos, where he became friends with artists who would one day be among Mexico's most famous. Winslow spent the rest of his life in Mexico, working as a painter. He became a Mexican citizen in 1951, and continued to produce art and mount exhibitions until his death in Mexico City in August, 2001.

October 3 – November 8, 2011

Christopher Olszewski, Paintings

As an active member of the Chippewa of Mnjikaning First Nation and self-identified "completely assimilated Native American," Christopher Olszewski makes paintings and installations that combine the creative visual language of the Northern Woodland people with western art traditions and modernist/postmodernist philosophy, as he works towards developing the Native American image beyond the "Souvenir Shop."

November 16 – December 17, 2011

Fall Graduating Seniors Exhibition

(ALSO IN CORRIDOR GALLERY)

Reception: Saturday, Dec 17 in conjunction with Commencement

From Graphic Design to Drawing, Painting, Printmaking, Weaving, Ceramics and Sculpture, this group exhibition presents the work of the Fall 2011 graduating Seniors from the Department of Art.

January 23 – February 22, 2012

Arturo Rodriguez, Transformations and Journeys

Arturo Rodriguez' work, ranging from painting to sculpture, is heavily influenced by the printmaking process in which he was trained. His pieces struggle to steer their way through the tension between his native Cuban and inherited American cultures, and express his experiences as a refugee/immigrant.

March 14 – April 10, 2012

Student Juried Exhibition

This juried exhibition will showcase a selection of the work of students in the WKU Department of Art.

April 18 – May 12, 2012

Spring Graduating Seniors Exhibition

(ALSO IN CORRIDOR GALLERY)

Reception: Saturday, May 12 in conjunction with Commencement

From Graphic Design to Drawing, Painting, Printmaking, Weaving, Ceramics and Sculpture, this group exhibition presents the work of the Spring 2012 graduating Seniors from the Department of Art.
