WHO IS BOARDWALK PIPELINE PARTNERS?

Boardwalk Pipeline Partners, LP (NYSE: BWP) is a master limited partnership engaged, through its subsidiaries, in the transportation, storage, and gathering of natural gas.

HISTORY

Loews Corporation (NYSE: L) bought Texas Gas Transmission in May 2003 and Gulf South Pipeline Company in December 2004. These two interstate natural gas pipeline companies were placed into a new entity - Boardwalk Pipeline Partners, LP - which went public on November 15, 2005. A third interstate natural gas pipeline company, Gulf Crossing Pipeline Company, went into service in 2009 and Boardwalk Field Services, a midstream gas company, was formed in 2011. In addition, Boardwalk recently acquired the Petal Gas Storage and Hattiesburg Industrial Gas Sales storage companies and formed Boardwalk HP Storage Company, LLC.

Boardwalk operates approximately 14,300 miles of pipeline and underground storage fields with aggregate working gas capacity of approximately 186 Bcf. In 2011, our systems carried 11% of the nation's average daily consumption of natural gas.
