This is Kelsey with Teksystems. We have a position in Bowling Green for an entry level developer! The top three skills needed for this position are C#, MS SQL, and VB.NET. It is a great starter salary for someone right out of school. It would be awesome if you could send this to your students and tell them to feel free to call me at the contact information below and we can discuss the position further! Also feel free to contact me with any more questions, thanks Mark!
