The Potter College of Arts & Letters at Western Kentucky University (WKU) is seeking applications to create a pool of qualified faculty to teach part-time in a variety of disciplines, as needed. Teaching opportunities are available for part-time faculty to both undergraduate and graduate level courses in the following departments:

- Art
- Communication
- English
- Folk Studies and Anthropology
- History
- Journalism and Broadcasting
- Modern Languages
- Music
- Philosophy & Religion
- Political Science
- Sociology
- Theatre & Dance

Minimum qualifications: A master's degree in the discipline is required for teaching undergraduate-level courses; however, a terminal degree is required for teaching graduate-level courses. Teaching responsibilities may include evening classes at the main and extended campus locations. Applicants should be knowledgeable of web-based and distance education, and have experience teaching in settings characterized by diversity.

Interested candidates please submit a letter of application and vita to: potter.college@wku.edu.

Kentucky state law requires all public institutions of postsecondary education to conduct pre-employment criminal background checks to determine suitability for employment.

Western Kentucky University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, disability, age, religion, veteran status, or marital status in admission to career and technical education programs and/or activities, or employment practices in accordance with Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Revised 1992, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

Persons with disabilities, who need reasonable accommodations to participate in the application and/or selection process, should notify The Office of Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/University ADA Services at (270) 745-5121, a minimum of five working days in advance.