

Victorians

A JOURNAL OF CULTURE AND LITERATURE

Deborah Logan, Editor

Number 137

“Anything but business”: Middle-Class Work and Leisure in Catherine Gore’s Silver-Fork Fiction

TAMARA S. WAGNER

Haunted Children: Legitimacy, Inheritance, and the Sins of the Fathers in Ghost Stories by Victorian Women

ANNE DELONG

Public and Private Folklore: The Function of Folk-Culture in
The Return of the Native and Jude the Obscure

JUDE WRIGHT

Comus and Dorian: Milton’s Influence on Wilde

CLAY DANIEL

“The loved shall meet on its hearth again”: Haunting as Promise of Connection in the Writing of Emily Brontë

JAMES QUINNELL

Debating John Lockwood Kipling’s Beast and Man in India

PETER H. HOFFENBERG

Book Review: MARRISA JOSEPH, Victorian Literary Businesses: The Management Practices of the British Publishing Industry

SPENCER DODD

PUBLISHED IN PARTNERSHIP BY

The Ohio State University Press

 WKU Department of ENGLISH

HTTPS://OHIOSTATEPRESS.ORG/VICTORIANS.HTML

PUBLISHED ONLINE:

PROJECT MUSE®

HTTPS://MUSE.JHU.EDU/JOURNAL/718