GEN. CALIXTO GARCIA DEAD.

Distinguished Cuban Warrior and ceader Died of Pneumonia in Wash-ington Sunday Morning.

Leader Ded of Peeumonia in Washington Sanday Morning.

WASHINGTON,
Garcia, the distinguished Cuban warrior and leader and the head of the commission elected by the Cuban assembly to visit this country, died here Sunday morning shortly after 10 o'clock at the Hotel Raleigh, where the Cuban commission has had its headquarters. The sudden change from the warm climate of Cuba with the hardships he had there endured to the wintery weather of New York and Washington is responsible for the pneumonia which resulted in his death. He contracted a slight Gold in New York, which did not assume an alarming stage until the early part of last week. On Tuesday night Gen. Garcia, in company with two other members of the commission, attended a dinner given in his honor by Gen. Miles, and it was a result of the exposure that night which culminated in his death.

During the 12 hours, or more necessity.

posure tant ingit when cummated in his death.

During the 12 hours or more preceding dissolution Gen. Garcia was unconscious most of the time. At intervals he recognized one or more of those about him. In his dying moments, as all through his busy and active life, his thoughts were for his beloved country and its people, and among his last words were irrational mutterings, in which he gave orders to his son, who is on his staff, for the battle which he supposed was to occur Monday and in which he understood there were only 400 Spaniards to combat. Just before he died he embraced his son. Rev. Father Magee, of St. Patrick's church, was called in during the day and was with Gen. Garcia until the end, administering the last rites of the Catholic church.

Gen. Garcia left a large family, only one of whom, Justo, a capatian on his staff, was with him when he died. His widow and Mercedes, a daughter, I'r years of age, are at Thomasville, Ga., where the girl is quite lil; Mario, a son. 19 years of age, is with the mother at Thomasville; and Col., Carloss Garcia, another son, is in Cuba. A daughter Leenora, who married an American, is now living in Paris. Gen. Garcia's mother is still alive and resides in Havana.

The signing of the treaty saturday night would have afforded a subject for a great historical painting. The group gathered about the table in the stately chamber of the foreign office was impressive in itself, while the fact that the sense of the momentousness of the issues which the act decided was deeply felt by all the participants gave an impressive and solemn tone to the scene.

Around the great mahogany table sat the ten arbiters of the destinies of an old and a young nation. Ranged, standing, behind them were numerous attaches of the American commission. The jets from the crystal chandleier above the heads of those present magnified the brilliant green and scarlet of the upholsterings into gaudiness. There was a theatrical coptrast between the black-clothed actors and the scenery. To the Americans it was a happy ending of the epilogue of war; for the Spaniard is was plainly a bitter tragedy, mone the less painful because long fore-seen. They sat silently as though al most crushed, and none could withhold sympathy from Senor Montero Rios, the president of the Spanish commission, who, coming from his bed, was bundled in a great overcoat, though logs were burning in the fireplace near by.
