- *Art Classes
- *Inclusionary

- *Individual collaboration with professional artist

- *Young artist recognition

- *Art Exhibit

- *Reception at the Kentucky Museum

The Side by Side Program was created in 2004 as a way to provide hands-on learning experiences in the arts for school age children with special needs in communities across Kentucky. Each Side by Side site offers a series of studio art classes taught by Arts for All Kentucky approved teaching artist. After completing the classes, young artists are paired by with professional artists from their community to create a collaborative work. There is a public exhibition and a reception where students are recognized for their achievements is the final phase of the program.

Side by Side classes are at the Kentucky Museum on Saturdays:

February 12, 19, 26 and March 5. Collaborations are March 12.

Register by February 7
