

The 2nd Semester

Celebrate the Arts Night

A part of the mashup night "Why Boone," the "Celebrate the Arts" portion showcased performances from the band, acapella choirs, "Little Shop of Horrors" cast, and forensics team. Taking place in the library, student art was also sprinkled throughout the showcase for onlookers to admire.

Night

TOP LEFT: Junior McKayla Major, junior Casey Beusterien, and sophomore Katie Gartner perform the opening number of "Little Shop of Horrors." TOP MIDDLE: Sophomore Jacob Fee of the choir sings. TOP RIGHT: Junior Bryce Herzner soaks in the night with hands raised. BOTTOM RIGHT: Senior Michelle Mullins, sophomore Olivia Lamb, and sophomore Hilaena Bell sing for women's acapella

All photos by Samuel Colmar

Senior Dinner Dance

As one of the most anticipated senior events of each year, Senior Dinner Dance is typically an evening to remember. Taking place shortly after winter break, this event marks the beginning of seniors' final semester as high school students. With food, dancing, and socializing, the Senior Dinner Dance allowed seniors to celebrate the end of their high school career.

TOP LEFT: Becca Schreiber laughs with friends on the dancefloor. TOP MIDDLE: Kevin Le poses with his drink. TOP RIGHT: Dylan Gascon and Devin Schwabe pose goofily for the camera. BOTTOM LEFT: Parker Kyle, John Colmar, Dylan Gascon and other seniors dance on the dancefloor.

All photos by Samuel Colmar

Little Shop of Horrors

Boone's production of the musical comedy "Little Shop of Horrors" took place on the first weekend of March, drawing in crowds for three nights. The musical received rave reviews and took only two months to produce, which is three months shorter than in past productions.

TOP LEFT: Junior Abby Johnson and senior Dan Compton pose at the end of a song. TOP MIDDLE LEFT: Senior Haley Powell reacts to the plant moving. TOP MIDDLE RIGHT: Senior Sophie Delaney delivers sass as Audrey II. BOTTOM LEFT: Compton shows his fear for junior Bryce Herzner's character. FAR RIGHT: Johnson sings her solo.

All photos by Zoe Collins

Stories

Pep Rally Stars

After the Boone cheerleaders won nationals, an impromptu pep rally was called to order. During the pep rally, the cheerleaders performed their winning routine, winter sports seniors and activities were announced, and academic successes like a perfect ACT score and a National Merit Finalist were announced.

FAR LEFT: Freshman Madelyn Anspach cheers with her team. TOP MIDDLE: Members of the senior class stand as they are announced for their sport or activity. TOP RIGHT: Cheerleaders huddle together before performing their national-winning routine. BOTTOM MIDDLE: Junior Catherine Johnson takes a rose after being announced for a perfect ACT score

All photos by Samuel Colmar

Why Boone? Open House And Transition Days

A mashup of student showcase, arts night, and teacher meetings, "Why Boone" open house was held on Feb. 13 as a way to show off Boone to the community and incoming student and their parents. Most activities and clubs were represented, and performances for the band, choir, and cheerleading team were featured as well.

Students were chosen to represent their clubs at a student showcase where incoming students and their parents could ask questions and collect information about things that interested them. Raffles were held and food trucks were outside the building for dinner. All the academic departments Boone has were represented with all the teachers from each one there to answer questions.

TOP LEFT: Junior Rebecca Hall plays her drum for the incoming students. TOP RIGHT: Juniors Brice Lovell, Adam Hicks, Eli Rossi, and Lance Huff smile as they stand with new football coach Bryson Warner. ABOVE LEFT: Junior Madison Gilbert and Senior Alli Baer smile for the camera. ABOVE RIGHT: Junior Isaiah Jones performs with the choir. FAR LEFT MIDDLE: Sophomore Mallory Schuster and Senior Parker Kyle talk to incoming freshman. FAR LEFT BOTTOM: Senior Kevin Le smiles during Open House. BOTTOM RIGHT: Junior Sofia Thomas smiles at incoming students.

Photos by Samuel Colmar, Hector Ziegler, and Liam Minniti