Lost River Sessions returns to The Capitol Thursday

By the Daily News
Feb 14, 2023

Lost River Sessions returns to The Capitol at 7 p.m. Thursday with the Sam Gyllenhaal Band and opener Spooky Fox.

Craft beer from a local vendor and wine from Traveler's Cellar will be available, as well as concessions, artists' merchandise, Lost River Sessions' merchandise and giveaways, including free LRS wine glasses with the purchase of a drink.

The event is free to all students with a high school or WKU ID and the general admission cost is $12.50.

Lost River Sessions is the Emmy-award winning radio, TV and concert series that is broadcast to over 163 million people on TV each week.
