Letter from the Director

We are pleased to share with you our first Nursing Newsletter. We hope to use this periodical to help keep our alumni, community agencies, and current students informed of changes and accomplishments at the WKU School of Nursing. As you will see, as you read through the articles, we have a lot going on this year.

We will be hosting our CCNE site visit in April 2017. We are in the process of writing the self-study report now, and will be asking some of you to come to campus to meet with our visitors. We will start expanding openings in the BSN program in Fall of 2017 as we phase out the traditional ASN program. We will continue to offer the online LPN to ASN program, as this program is not currently offered by local community colleges. We will also continue our popular online RN to BSN program. Finally, we are increasing opportunities for graduate students. The new Urgent Care/ER track for nurse practitioners will be starting this fall, and we will continue to grow the new Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner track as well. The DNP program is continuing to grow and we should have more DNP graduates available for the workforce this next year.

We would love to include more alumni news for our next newsletter, so if you have news for us, please email www.wku.edu/nursing to let us know what you are up to.

Thank you for all you do to support the various programs and students here at WKU!

BSN Program Set to Expand as ASN Program Phases Out

In October 1962, the Kentucky Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration granted approval to establish an Associate Degree Program in Nursing at Western Kentucky University. The program was first granted initial accreditation by the NLN Council of Associate Degree Board of Review in 1966 and has continued to be reaccredited since that time, with the last reaccreditation being in 2015 by the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission (NLNAC).

Over the next three years, the School of Nursing, in The College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) at Western Kentucky University (WKU), will transition away from the traditional Associate of Science in Nursing Program (ASN) and increase students in the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) program to meet the workforce need for more BSN nurses. Admissions into the online Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) to ASN program, currently one of only two in the state, will continue.

In 2010, the Institute of Medicine published a comprehensive plan for Nursing and Nursing Education in the U.S., commonly known as the Future of Nursing report. One of the key goals was to increase the proportion of registered nurses with baccalaureate degrees to 80 percent by the year 2020. Because of this change, BSN nurses are currently in high demand by local employers and across the U.S. WKU wants to meet this workforce need by accommodating as many people as possible in its BSN program.

“We have continued strong student demand for the BSN program, with 80 students being admitted to the program every semester, and with steadily increasing size and strength of our applicant pool,” Dr. Mary Bennett, Director of the WKU School of Nursing, said. “We expect continued strong demand for this program, with 496 students currently enrolled in the pre-BSN program, seeking to obtain a seat. We would like to be able to admit every qualified student to the BSN program, so we will transfer resources from the ASN program to enlarge the BSN program.”

The last class of traditional ASN students will be admitted into the program in January 2017. These students will progress through the program and complete their degrees in May 2019. Students still seeking entry into the WKU ASN program after the last admission cycle will be able to transition to either the WKU BSN program, or seek entry into one of the remaining ASN programs in Kentucky. As the traditional ASN program changes, the BSN program will increase enrollment by accepting up to 60 additional qualified students per semester to meet employer and student demands for the BSN degree. The WKU LPN to ASN online program, a novel program that is funded by the WKU Division of Learning and Outreach (DELO), will remain open while the College of Health and Human Services assesses the enrollment potential of this online program.

“CHHS and the School of Nursing continue to prepare our students to be human change agents by promoting a higher quality of life and providing cutting-edge, financially valuable programs to serve our constituents,” Dr. Bennett said. “Transitioning away from the traditional ASN program will allow for growth in our competitive and prestigious BSN program and will fulfill the needs of both the community and our students, while contributing to the Institute of Medicine target goal of increasing the proportion of registered nurses with a baccalaureate degree to 80 percent by 2020.”
It was an evening filled with cherishable memories as friends, family, colleagues and alumni gathered to celebrate Dr. Susan Jones’ tenure at Western Kentucky University. A dinner was held in her honor to celebrate her ongoing community involvement and her recent appointment as a WKU Professor Emerita. The celebratory dinner was proceeded by a silent auction benefiting the M. Susan Jones Scholarship (with The College Heights Foundation). The scholarship will support travel for WKU nursing students participating in study abroad programs or traveling to conferences to present their scholarly work. Over $6,000 was raised for the scholarship through dinner ticket purchases, a silent auction, and donations made directly to the scholarship fund. The event was held at the Medical Center/ WKU Health Sciences Complex in Bowling Green, KY on Friday, November 6, 2015.

M. Susan Jones is Professor Emerita in the School of Nursing at WKU and has been an educator for over 44 years. She earned a BSN from the University of Tennessee in Memphis, a MSN from Vanderbilt University and a PhD in Nursing from the University of Cincinnati. She previously served as President of the Kentucky Nurses Association and served two terms on the Kentucky Board of Nursing. Her research interests are rural issues including agricultural health and safety. In collaboration with colleagues and students, she has implemented numerous service learning projects in rural areas including a health promotion project with a Mennonite community in south central Kentucky. She has worked with associate, baccalaureate and graduate nursing students, as well as students from many different disciplines across campus. She has mentored many new faculty members including faculty members who joined her in publications, grant writing, and public service opportunities. She has led numerous study abroad experiences to Ireland, England, and Scotland. One of her service endeavors included the development of a Kellogg project, the Farm Family Health and Safety organization, which has been replicated in other states across the United States. This program, renamed the KY Partnership for Farm Family Health and Safety, Inc., spans several decades and continues to provide opportunities for service, scholarship, and teaching to agricultural families throughout regions of Kentucky and Tennessee. Dr. Jones has also been awarded the University Award for Faculty Service in recognition of her community work.

Dr. Jones is an educator whose practice goes beyond the classroom and whose teaching and research has inspired and encouraged generations of healthcare professionals and partnerships. It was a joyous evening celebrating how the principles she taught them continue to guide them in their lives and careers today.
Student Awards & Achievements

BSN Prelicensure Student, Ryne Wilson, Awarded Externship Opportunity through Mayo Clinic

An encounter with a stranger in a bookstore last summer, led to 3rd semester BSN Pre-Licensure student Ryne Wilson’s, recently awarded externship opportunity with Mayo Clinic’s Nurse III Summer Externship in Minneapolis, MN this June. That stranger, BSN Pre-Licensure alumnus, Matthew Garvey, noticed the not so familiar nursing textbooks Wilson was carrying.

“He just walked up to me and told me I should apply for this opportunity,” said Wilson, who had never met Garvey. “I thought it was kind of odd, and I just kept it in the back of my mind…maybe I wouldn’t do this, maybe I will.”

Garvey was actually the only other student from Western Kentucky University’s Nursing school that had been awarded this same externship opportunity with the Mayo Clinic in the summer of 2014.

The Summer III Nursing Externship offers an educational work experience as well as an opportunity to live, socialize, and collaborate with other nursing students from around the country.

Wilson, intimidated about competitive nature of the program, submitted his application and was awarded the opportunity and assigned to working on the Med Surg floor in the Domintella Hospital June 6 - August 12, 2016

The externship provides the students with the opportunity to work alongside RN clinical coaches to experience nursing care at Mayo Clinic hospitals in their inpatient work areas.

Wilson has set his own goals for this awarded opportunity, “Implementing evidence-based practice, innovation, and providing a platform for nurses to learn and be innovative. (Giving) exceptional patient advocacy. There is a reason these patients are here, the name, expertise.”

Following his mother’s footsteps in pursuing the nursing profession, Wilson’s own goals are to land a career in a large, teaching hospital, working in the Med Surg, Critical Care areas. He would also like to return to school to obtain his Masters degree in Acute Care Nurse Practitioner, with the goal to work in an Oncology facility.

The Vanderbilt Experience: Student Nurse Internship Program (Vesnip)

The Vanderbilt Experience: Student Nurse Internship Program (VESNIP) was successfully completed by 12 WKU nursing students, three of which also completed their honors project during the internship. WKU is one of five schools invited to participate in the VESNIP opportunity. The students received invaluable experiences with clinical placements including; Women’s Health, Critical Care, Acute Care, Pediatrics, Psychiatric, and Perioperative.

During the Internship the Vanderbilt nursing staff has the opportunity to nominate one student from each track to receive the Vanderbilt Credo award. Dr. Audrey Cornell, Clinical Associate Professor stated, “The student receiving the Credo award is a student that made our patients the highest priority by communicating effectively with their families and was committed to being a team player.”

All 12 WKU nursing student participants represented WKU SON with pride and professionalism and we are proud to say for the first time, two CHHS School of Nursing VESNIP participants were presented with the Vanderbilt Credo Award: Lexie Webb from Orthopedics, and Krysta Leith from Pediatrics.

DNP Graduate

Samantha L. Port

Port, a recent MSN to DNP graduate, will present her DNP Research project titled “Nursing Interventions to Decrease the Primary Cesarean Section Rate: A Program Evaluation” during the upcoming Association of Women’s Health, Obstetrics and Neonatal Nurses (AWHONN) Convention held in Grapevine, TX, June 11-15, 2016.

DNP Graduate

Janet L. Meyer

Meyer, a recent MSN to DNP graduate, published an article on her DNP Research project, “Health Coaching in Faith-Based Community Diabetes Education”, in the International Journal of Faith Community Nursing, Vol.2: Iss. 1, Article 3. Available at: http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/ijfcn/vol2/iss1/3.

BSN Pre-Licensure’s 4th Semester Student

Madison Gilinksy

Submitted abstract: Hidden Behind a 53 Foot Trailer: Are Women Truck Drivers at Risk for Sexual Assault? to End Violence Against Women International (EVAWI), and was invited to present her poster at the International Conference on Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, and Engaging Men & Boys in Washington DC, March 2016.

BSN Pre-Licensure’s 4th Semester Student

Keeley Klutts

Klutts, along with her preceptor, developed a policy for Kosair Children’s Hospital (Louisville, KY) on care and management of traction for newborn patients with a rare cervical dislocation. The policy was created after an experience she had in providing care for a newborn patient, whose symptoms did not match any other documented cases in the U.S.; therefore, a policy or procedure for care did yet not exist.

Morgan McCubbins, ’15
Blazing new paths...

McCubbins, a recent graduate from the BSN Prelicensure program, is employed at Owensboro Health Regional Hospital as a BSN, RN in the Emergency Department. McCubbins recently wrote to the the SON faculty, sharing her gratitude of the program at WKU.

“I just wanted to let you all know how thankful I am for all of my wonderful professors I had the pleasure of learning from and wanted you all to know that my experience as a new grad nurse in the ER is going absolutely wonderful!!! Of course I’m still nervous and still learning and making mistakes, but I truly feel that WKU nursing shaped and prepared me for this so well and for that I am so thankful!”

Jacob Read, ’13 | Nikita Read, ’13
A Dynamic Team...

Jacob and Nikita Read, both December 2013 graduates of the RN to BSN program, received academic awards while in studies at WKU. After graduation, they also both received academic scholarships to Vanderbilt University, where they entered the Nurse Practitioner program.

The Reads completed clinical hours at the Health Wagon, a program that has been featured on 60 minutes. They sericed the uninsured population in rural Appalachia, and are currently working as Nurse Practitioners within the Navajo Reservation in New Mexico.
Tracy Jenkins came to WKU from Aquinas College in Nashville, Tennessee where she taught as an adjunct clinical instructor for five years while receiving her Master’s in Nursing Education. In 2014, Tracy taught Fundamentals Clinicals at WKU and now teaches Med/Surg I Lectures, Simulation and Clinicals. Tracy also works as a Parallon Agency Nurse for HCA tri-star hospitals in the Kentucky and Tennessee areas. Tracy and her husband Chip have two children and two cats and will welcome their first grandchild in September.

In Spring 2016, Dr. Lorraine Bormann and Dr. Tonya Bragg-Underwood were promoted to Associate Professor for the WKU School of Nursing.

Dr. Lorraine Bormann, PhD, RN, MHA, CPHQ, FACHE

Dr. Bormann graduated from Western Kentucky University with an Associate Degree in Nursing, a Baccalaureate in Healthcare Administration and a Master’s Degree in Healthcare Administration. She received her PhD in Educational Leadership and Organizational Development from University of Louisville. She is credentialed through the Healthcare Quality Certification Board as a Certified Professional in Healthcare Quality, has Six Sigma training, holds a Graduate Leadership Studies Certificate, and is a Fellow in the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Veletta Ogaz, PhD (c), MSN, APRN-FNP

Instructor

Veletta Ogaz is a recent faculty hire in the Doctor of Nursing Practice program. Prior to WKU, Veletta taught at California Baptist University. During WKU’s 2015-2016 academic year, she taught Primary Care Internship, Graduate Nursing Research, Research Applications, Program Evaluation, and FNP Practicum. She is currently completing her PhD in Nursing from Azusa Pacific University and hopes to complete in summer 2016. Veletta and her husband are proud that their oldest son, Alex, will be an incoming WKU freshman and Adam, their youngest son just turned 16.

Dr. Maires Blankenship, DNP, NP-C, OCN

Assistant Professor

Maires Blankenship is our newest tenure track faculty hire in the Doctor of Nursing Practice program. She comes to academics after 28 years in practice as an oncology nurse and six years as a nurse practitioner. During WKU’s 2015-2016 academic year, she taught Advanced Physiological and Pathophysiological Concepts, Practice Management for Advanced Practice Nurses, Theoretical Foundations of Professional Nursing, and Advanced Issues in Professional Nursing. Maires continue to provide care for oncology patients at Graves Gilbert Clinic. She and her husband, Ray, have three children - Nate, Emily, and Allie. Maires enjoys reading, cooking, and travel.

Tracy Jenkins, MSN, RN

Instructor

Tracy Jenkins came to WKU from Aquinas College in Nashville, Tennessee where she taught as an adjunct clinical instructor for five years while receiving her Master’s in Nursing Education. In 2014, Tracy taught Fundamentals Clinicals at WKU and now teaches Med/Surg I Lectures, Simulation and Clinicals. Tracy also works as a Parallon Agency Nurse for HCA tri-star hospitals in the Kentucky and Tennessee areas. Tracy and her husband Chip have two children and two cats and will welcome their first grandchild in September.

Rhonda Quenzer, MSN, RN

Instructor

Rhonda Quenzer is the newest instructor in the Associate of Science Nursing program. She has 22 years of nursing experience in a variety of areas. During the 2015-2016 academic year, she taught Fundamentals of Nursing in the ASN program. Prior to the 2015-2016 academic year, she taught in the Health Information Management program. She is currently completing her post Master’s certification in the Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner program. Rhonda and her husband Collin, have four children, Will, Niko, Anna, and Jake.

Miranda Peterson, MSN, CNE, RN

Instructor

Miranda Peterson is the newest instructor in the Bachelor of Science in Nursing program who will begin teaching Med Surg Nursing I in fall 2016. Prior to WKU, Miranda taught Med Surg III and Pediatrics for Western Kentucky Community & Technical College in Paducah since fall 2010. Miranda has been an RN for past 21 years, working in various units from Med Surg to Labor & Delivery. She received her BSN from WKU, her MSN in Nursing Education from the University of Southern Indiana, and began her DNP in fall 2014, with projected graduation of December 2016. Miranda and her husband Ben, have two boys; Caleb (14) and Cody (12), two cats, one dog, and are beekeepers to a couple of hives of honeybees.

WKU Mobile Health Unit

The Institute for Rural Health (IRH) believes that students learn from every patient. The more patients that the IRH is able to see and treat, the more knowledge and real-world experiences the students of the College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) receive as part of their education. The IRH staff and CHHS students have traveled numerous miles to offer rural communities health care and health education, which is an essential component and cornerstone of the IRH mission.

Over the past three years, our undergraduate nursing students have averaged over 400 hours annually of student engagement with the Mobile Health Unit, that serves patients located in rural areas.

Progressive Agricultural Safety Days

On September 24, 2015, SON’s 4th semester BSN prelicensure students as well as the RN to BSN students, volunteered to serve as educational vendors at the 20th anniversary of “Progressive Agriculture Safety Days”!

Over 620 4th graders from Warren, Allen & Edmonson counties participated in the program.

This program, recognized as the largest rural safety and health education program for children in North America, provides training and resources for local communities to conduct one-day safety and health programs that are age-appropriate, hands-on, fun, and safe for children.

The KY Partnership was one of the original organizations involved in the Progressive Agriculture Safety Days® program.
Graduate Programs

- New Graduate Concentrations:
  1. BSN to DNP Nurse Executive
- Updates to Graduate Concentrations:
  1. Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner is now fully supported by WKU faculty
  2. Nurse Educator has moved to all online courses
- New Journal: International Journal of Faith Community Nursing offered on WKU’s TopSCHOLAR
- New Graduation Simulation Lab: featuring eye, ear and pelvic simulators
- Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society Induction: Inducted 18 graduate students as new members into the Kappa Theta Chapter on November 19, 2015.

RN to Bachelor of Science in Nursing (RN to BSN) Program

- Ranked Top 50: Our RN to BSN program ranked in the top 50 RN to BSN Online programs for 2016.
- Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society Induction: Inducted 23 RN to BSN students as new members into the Kappa Theta Chapter on November 19, 2015.
- Wide-Rach Student Recruitment: enrolled students from 25 cities in Kentucky, two cities in Tennessee and one city in Indiana for the 2015-2016 academic year.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) Prelicensure Program

- NCLEX Pass Rates: Received a 97% pass rate on the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) from the Kentucky Board of Nursing (KBN) for the 2015 calendar year; 102 of 105 graduates passed the NCLEX exam on their first attempt.
- Nurse Recruitment Fairs: Hosted two nurse recruitment fairs for 4th semester students in Fall 2015 and Spring 2016 with over 15 vendors in attendance at each fair.
- Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society Induction: Inducted 34 BSN students as new members into the Kappa Theta Chapter on November 19, 2015.

Associate of Science in Nursing (ASN) Program

- LPN to ASN Online program: School of Nursing will continue to offer the LPN to ASN program after the ASN program phases out in 2017. Currently, it’s one of two LPN to ASN programs in the state of Kentucky.
