News from Ogden College at Western Kentucky University

A Word With The Dean...

New is the best word to describe the first few months of 2017. We said “goodbye” to three staff members, and “welcome” to our newest team members. Construction on the new Ogden College Hall continues to be on time and on budget. The Ogden College web site is getting a new format. Our departments are implementing technology-forward connections like crowdfunding and enhanced social media presence to bring new information to you as it happens.

New is exciting, and my goal is to integrate new with our commitment to Empower.Connect.Serve our students, alumni, faculty, and staff.

As always, I look forward to hearing what is new with you, and I encourage you to connect with me via Twitter or email!

New Faces in the Dean's Office

Melanie H. Redden joined the Dean's Office staff in January as Office Associate. She comes to us from the Biology department with a background in marketing, communications, and event planning.

Lynnita Glass joined the OCSE Dean's Office staff in April as Pre-Professional Health Advisor. She is a 20 year WKU veteran, having taught and advised most recently in the School of Nursing.

Paige N. Spear began work in January as Industrial Liaison & Internship Coordinator for Ogden College. Paige is a WKU alum (BA '14 Sociology/Criminology) and has several years' experience in higher education.

With a June start date, Tori Hampton is the newest Academic Advisor in our office. Tori is a WKU alum (BS '15 Meteorology) and was previously a Residential Counselor for the Gatton Academy.

After 3+ years in WKU red, advisor Chris Crutchfield now wears UK blue in his new job as Academic Advisor, Pre-Health Professions in Lexington, KY. He started this new job in January.

Monica Bean completed her student teaching assignment and earned her Master's Degree from WKU this spring. She plans to teach marketing/business to high school students.

Farewell to These Folks

Pam Pierce moved to Florida and is now an advisor at Keiser University's Melbourne (FL) campus. She served as one of our Academic Advisors for two years.

Kicking off its first year, WISELiving brings together 24 first-year female students who plan to major in one of 10 Departments within WKU's Ogden College of Science & Engineering (OCSE). This community is designed to create an immediate support network of new WISE friends, who will learn and grow together. Housed on-campus in Gilbert Hall, participants share a dorm room with another WISELiving member and participate in a variety of academic, service, and social activities created specifically for the group. WISELiving is sponsored by the OCSE Dean's Office, in partnership with the WISE Faculty Group and WKU Housing & Residence Life.

STUDENT RESEARCH CONFERENCE

The 47th Annual WKU Student Research Conference took place on March 25th at the Downing Student Union. About 400 WKU graduate and undergraduate students from 43 schools, departments, programs, and institutes in all colleges at WKU across the main and regional campuses participated. The conference was organized into 59 sessions of talks, presentations, posters, and performances. The Conference Keynote Sigma Xi Distinguished Lecture, "Science in the Public Interest" was presented by Dr. Karen Oates.

The WKU Student Research Conference showcases scholarly activities of graduate and undergraduate students of diverse disciplines from across the main and regional campuses. The conference is planned each year by the university's Student Research Council in partnership with the Office of Research & Creative Activity, which provides both administrative and financial support for the conference.

Dr. Rodney King (Dept of Biology) and Dr. Mike Stokes (Dept of Biology) received WKU Faculty Mentoring Awards. Pictured at left is recipient Dr. King, who was nominated by Dr. Mike Stokes; and pictured at right is recipient Dr. Mike Stokes, who was nominated by Dr. Kerrie McDaniel and Dr. Carl Dick. Biology Dept Head Dr. Bruce Schulte and Provost Dr. David Lee, who presented the awards, are also pictured in both.

Noah Ashley, PhD (Dept of Biology) received the Outstanding Junior Faculty Achievement Award for Research & Creative Activity and Shahnazi Aly, MArch (Dept of AMS) received the Outstanding Junior Faculty Achievement Award for Teaching. OCSE Associate Dean Ken Crawford presented both awards at the January 2017 Ogden College Opening Meeting.

Junior Faculty Awards

Women in Science Award

Congratulations to Dr. Nahid Gani (Dept of Geography & Geology) for receiving the 2017 Ogden College Women in Science & Engineering Award. OCSE Dean Cheryl Stevens presented the award to Dr. Gani at the January Ogden College Opening Meeting.

Events and Happenings

Ogden 2017 Spring Semester Opening Meeting

Math Department Head Bruce Kessler opened the event with a performance of his original musical composition, "Science Don't Care What You Think" before project manager Sarah Lamere of RossTarrant Architects, and mechanical engineer Tracy Steward from CMTA Consulting Engineers give the assembled faculty and staff members a thorough update on the construction progress. Department Heads introduced new faculty and staff members, Associate Dean Ken Crawford recognized our Junior Faculty Award honorees and Dean

Cheryl Stevens honored the Women in Science winner.
