WKU Ogden College Pay Guidelines for Summer and Winter Sessions

These guidelines establish consistent pay practices for Ogden College during summer and winter sessions. Compensation is calculated on a per-credit-hour basis according to student headcount, with incentives for higher enrollment and prorated pay for lower enrollment. The rates listed below apply to full-time faculty. Courses assigned an alternative rate structure are excluded from the rate structure below.

Courses with fewer than twelve (12) enrolled students may be offered only with dean approval. To support students and faculty with timely decisions, course cancellations must occur no later than five business days before the first day of class, and instructors removed from the course at that time.

First-day enrollment will be recorded as part of the Faculty Load and Compensation (FLAC) process, administered by the Office of the Provost. Please review Policy 1.212V for additional guidance concerning the administration of summer and winter sessions.

Internships and Practicums

Unless oversight of internship(s) and/or practicum(s) is part of their regular appointment as department chair/director, academic program coordinator, etc., if a faculty member provides active instructional oversight, pay follows the same prorated model. Documentation of instructional engagement is required.
