Dean’s Council of Students
Application for Membership

What is DCS?
The Dean's Council of Students is the Potter College of Arts & Letters ambassadorial group. DCS is comprised of 20-25 student volunteers, who are competitively selected annually and serve throughout the academic year. DCS membership is representative of all facets of the College and actively embraces members with different experiences and perspectives.

What is the role of DCS?
DCS members assist the College departments and faculty at open houses, college fairs, and serve as peer advisors during Academic Transitions Programs. Additionally, members of DCS provide campus and facilities tours through the Day in the Life of a Potter College Topper program, correspond with prospective majors, organize and participate in College events like Fall Festival, and serve as a student perspective focus group.

What are the application requirements for DCS?
To be a member of DCS, a student's primary major must fall within a Potter College department. Academically, students must maintain good standing with the University and within their major. Applicants meeting these criteria are screened by current membership and invited to participate in membership process day on April 11, 2015. Process Day is required for all potential members unless there are pre-approved extenuating circumstances.
