November 2 – 7, 2017

Mother Courage and Her Children* by Bertolt Brecht

Russell H. Miller Theatre, FAC
Written on the eve of the Nazi war machine's expansion into Poland in 1939 and set in the midst of Europe's 17th-century "Religious Wars," Mother Courage and Her Children exploded through centuries of stale theatrical convention to establish an entirely new way to "do theatre," immediately earning an enduring place in the pantheon of the world's greatest anti-war literature, and introducing to the world one of the theatre's most confounding and memorable characters: Anna Fierling, aka "Canteen Anna," aka Mother Courage.
Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Monday, & Tuesday at 8:00 p.m.
Sunday at 3:00 p.m.
Adults $15 / Students & Seniors (62+) $12
