

Graduate Student Research Grants

Maximum Award: $2000

Purpose: Graduate Student Research Grants are designed to support graduate students' personal and professional development by fostering active engagement in the areas of research, and creative and scholarly activities.

What type of projects are eligible? All areas of research and creative and scholarly activities are eligible. Projects must be student-initiated.

Who can apply? All graduate students can apply. Students are limited to 2 research grants per degree. Students may not receive more than $2000 in total for research grants per degree, or more than $2500 in research and travel grants total per degree.

Fundable budget expenses:

- Materials and supplies (e.g., stationery and postage)
- Equipment
- Travel necessary to collect data or conduct the creative activity (e.g., conducting research at a national archive)
- Participant support

Application Instructions:

A. Complete the following application form in full.

B. Proposed Budget and Budget Justification:

- i. Materials/Supplies (item, quantity, cost per unit, total cost)
- ii. Equipment needed to complete the research/creative activity (if it is not the type that the department would be expected to have or to acquire)
- iii. Travel (only if necessary for data collection purposes, e.g., travel to a national archive).
- iv. Participant support for human subjects research
- v. Other
- vi. Cost-sharing (if applicable)

C. Proposal Narrative: Write a two-page detailed proposal narrative (at least 11-point font) that includes the following information:

- i. The Objectives of the Project: In a few sentences, provide an introductory statement outlining the nature of the project for a general audience (do not assume reviewers are within your field of study). This statement should capture the essence of your intended project.
- ii. Approach (Methodology):
 - a. Describe the overall approach you will take.
 - b. If applicable, what methods will be used?
 - i. How will data be collected and analyzed?
 - c. What materials will be used?
 - d. How will a particular theme be carried through creative work?
 - e. Are there particular challenges that need to be overcome?
- iii. Expected Results and Significance:
 - a. What do you expect to produce, learn, or create?
 - b. What will its expected significance be for your discipline/field?
 - c. What scholarly contributions do you expect to make?
 - d. In short, what results are you anticipating?
- iv. Expected Application of Results/Intended Use of Results:
 - a. Will the research/creative activity support your master's thesis?
 - b. Do you intend to publish your results?
 - c. Are you planning further study in higher education (e.g., Ph.D.)?
 - d. Are you intending to submit your research/creative activity for a presentation at a conference?

D. Once the steps have been completed above, please send the application to the faculty mentor/ advisor. Faculty mentors/advisors should complete the one-page letter of support in the space provided. Mentor/advisors should sign the application indicating approval. Advisors/mentors should then send the completed application to the department chair for approval and signature.

E. Once all signatures have been obtained, the application for research grant funds should be submitted in full to gsresearchgrant@wku.edu. Only completed applications with all signatures will be reviewed.
