| Discussion: Elliott asked if the pre-reqs are part of the overall degree itself. Wininger they are both core courses for the major. Elliott, as core courses, should a "D" be considered the minimum grade they could get to be able to use those as pre-reqs? Wininger, a lot of our core |  |        |          |           | courses only require a D. Elliott just wanted to be sure. Wininger went on to explain other courses.

Friendly Amendment – PSY-210 should have a minimum grade of “C”.

Jessica Dorris agreed to make the change in courseleaf.

Discussion: Elliott, double checking this is a non-repeatable course. It says repeat, number 1.

Doesn't it typically have a 2 in there? Autin, stated this came up years ago and said it doesn't really mean the way we often use it, that they can repeat it to replace the grade. It means, if it's a course that they could take, like, a special topic more than once and get it more than one time so it really doesn't matter here.

Plemons wanted to tell everyone thanks for showing up today for the meeting. I know that everyone has just finished grading, and the provost office greatly appreciates it. The School of Media and Communications had a new program, and had it not been approved today by the UCC, it would have delayed the implementation by a semester. So, I appreciate you all doing that, so they could make the February board meeting.
